Parent-Teachers Association.

The Parent-Teacher Association met last Friday, that being the first Friday of the month, their regular meeting day.

A number of important questions were discussed. The first matter taken up was that of the necessity for another school in Tropicopolitan because of the city's rapid growth.

Mrs. McClure gave a short outline of the progress made within the last year.

Then Mrs. Edwards spoke on the need of a kindergarten. A discussion followed bringing out many good points.

The count of guests of the different grades was taken. After which Mrs. Harry L. Edwards, the speaker of the afternoon gave an address on "Fear and Its Relation to Children." Mrs. Rice-Wray then brought up the subject of Home and School Co-operation.

Reports of work done along those lines in other states were read and discussed.

Mrs. McClure, her staff of teachers and some of the mothers were appointed as a committee to investigate the subject, and find out if it would be practical and wise to adopt a similar plan in our own school.

Much interest was displayed during the whole meeting. At its close there were fifteen or twenty minutes of jolly get acquainted chatter while tea was served by Miss Bond, Mrs. Dutton, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Ballantyne, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Dwight Griswold, Mrs. Windsor and Mrs. Goff, the teacher and some of the mothers of third grade children who were hostesses.

CLUB WOMEN BUSY

The Civic Club will have to Look to its Laurels

AN ACTIVE LOT

The Women of Tropicopolitan Proving themselves Progressive and Enterprising—Are Active and Enthusiastic

The Thursday Afternoon club held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Dr. A. M. Duncan, hostesses, Miss Ida Myers, Mrs. Wayland Chapman, Mrs. F. B. Storer and Miss Harriett Myers.

The Social Committee called attention to the April Fool's Dance to be given the 19th of April, details of which were printed in last week's Sentinel.

Mrs. Charles Dible of 318 E. Cypress was admitted to membership.

Mrs. E. W. Richardson spoke in regard to the matter of her giving a lot on which to erect a club building and stated that she wished to give formal notice that she could not give a lot in the Richardson tract if she so desired, because of the building restrictions, but said that she was ready to help in the building of a clubhouse on any site selected by the club and that she was ready to give the last $100 of the amount needed to erect the building.

Mrs. Dr. Russell was elected a delegate to attend the state convention at Fresno, April 29 to May 1. Mrs. E. W. Richardson was elected first alternate and the president given power to appoint second alternate.

The president announced the nominating committee which is composed of Mrs. Dr. Conrad, chairman, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Lynch.

Mrs. Harry L. Edwards called attention to the necessity of a kindergarten for Tropicopolitan, and that the Civic Club would assist the club in securing such a school for Tropicopolitan but that the Civic Club thought the initiative should come from a woman's organization. On motion of Dr. Russell, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Ashton and Mrs. Chapman were appointed a committee to look into the advisability of a kindergarten school and how it could be secured.

Mrs. Dr. Russell said she wanted to tell the club how proud she was of the president of the Thursday Afternoon Club, as at all of the conventions and reciprocity days that she had attended at which Mrs. Griswold had also been present that the dignity and ability of the club's president reflected honor on Tropicopolitan.

As a mass meeting is to be held in the near future to discuss the ways and means of acquiring more and better school buildings and grounds and as it was desired to have a committee appointed from the different organizations of the city to arrange such a meeting, on motion, Mrs. E. W. Richardson was appointed a delegate to represent the club in this matter.

Mrs. C. A. Mayo rendered a solo which was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Wayland Chapman accompanied.

Mrs. Griswold, Mrs. Dr. Russell and Mrs. Rice-Wray gave reports on the District Convention of Women's Clubs held at Monrovia recently.

REPORT OF CONVENTION.

The Los Angeles District of California Federation of Women's Clubs met for their twelfth annual convention in Monrovia, March 26, 27, 28, 1913.

The convention was presided over very gracefully and tactfully by the President, Mrs. W. C. Musket, who called it the family gathering of clubs.

Welcome address to delegates was given by Mrs. Clark Marsh, President of Monrovia Club. Response, by Mrs. Calvin Hartwell, Vice-President at Large of State Federation.

Greetings from General Federation, by Mrs. Russell J. Waters, General Federation Secretary. Greeting from State, Mrs. James W. Orr, State President, who also gave a short talk, subject "What is the Most Vital Question Before Club Women Today."

There are ninety-seven clubs in the Los Angeles District. There were present sixty-four Presidents, one hundred and fifty-three delegates and twenty-six officers of the Federation, making a total number of 243.

On Thursday the Woman's clubhouse of Monrovia, which has a seating capacity of about 300, would not hold the visitors, and the afternoon session was taken to the Baptist church nearby, the body of the church seating about 500, was quickly filled and doors communicating with the church parlors and Sunday school rooms had to be opened to accommodate the throngs.

The President and members of the Monrovia Club were ever near at hand to administer to our comfort. They managed the large crowds with apparently very little trouble.

Their clubhouse was beautifully decorated, and showed much time and thought spent upon it.

Tea and wafers were served after the Wednesday and Friday sessions.

Wednesday evening a reception was given by the Monrovia club women, in the upper hall of the clubhouse. Music furnished by the High School orchestra.

Thursday evening there were auto rides for the delegates and guests, after having been shut up in the convention for two days from 9:30 a. m. until 5 p. m. The auto rides were gratefully appreciated.

A stereopticon lecture, "Spain and the Alhambra," was given on Thursday evening, by Miss Marion Cook, and those who stayed in Monrovia were well repaid.

Lunch was served each day at noon in the Baptist or the Methodist churches, and they had from 150 to 200 women at lunch each day. There surely were some busy Monrovia women during convention week.

If you look over the program you will find it very serious indeed. There's health, history and household economics; civics—lots of civics—social conditions and civil service reform, philanthropy, forestry and federation, immigration and legislation.

Among the noted speakers were Miss Ednah Rich, State Chairman of Household Economics; her address, "Efficiency in Home Making," was short, breezy and right to the point. She said, "We cannot be efficient unless we plan." "She who trains her children to help her is twice blessed."

Miss Zona Gale, General Federation Chairman of Civics, spoke on "Civics in the Little Towns." Her subject was divided into five sections. First, Municipal Office of Director of Public Recreation; second, Garbage Collection in Small Towns; third, Children's Home Gardens; fourth, Training in Citizenship and Morals; fifth, Charity Co-ordination.

Address, "Landscape Architecture and Gardening and Its Application to California," by Mr. Aurele Vermeulen, who seemed thoroughly acquainted with his subject. He said, "A city without parks is like a man without lungs." "The parkways should never be less in width than the sidewalks." "A neglected parkway is worse than none."

A short address was given by Dr. William Carter, Secretary of the International Peace Conference of Boston, on "Peace," and an address "The Awakening of the Persian Women," by Mr. Fred C. Coan, a missionary who was born in Persia and had lived there for forty years. He told how conditions had been in the past and what they are at the present time.

"By the same token, a community gets just the kind of newspaper it wants. No proprietor, no matter how pig-headed he may be, can long withstand public opinion. Serve notice on him that you demand a clean newspaper and you will get it. But remember the proprietor registers public approval, or public censure in one place and one place only, the business office. Your newspaper syndicate ignores your letters and resolutions so long as you keep your subscription paid up and his advertising columns full."

"The clean newspaper will have a news service truthful, wholesome, complete; will have editorials frank, far-sighted, tolerant, responsible; will have a policy, broad, definite and public-spirited; will have clear-cut principles that cannot be bought or intimidated; and will stand eternally for righteousness, progress and fundamental democracy."

JUDGED BY NEWSPAPERS

The Average Paper is Trivial says

REYNOLD E. BLIGHT

A Community Rises no Higher than the Newspaper it Maintains. Clean Journalism is in the Ascendancy

Reynold E. Blight, minister of the Los Angeles Fellowship, and a candidate for re-election to the Board of Education, addressed the Women's City Club at their luncheon Monday. His subject was "Clean Journalism," and he said in part:

"Modern newspapers are not bad, they are only trivial. There are certain great exceptions that stand out like beacon lights in the darkness. But the average newspaper is cursed with triviality. Trivial stories featured in the news columns. Trivial ideas on the editorial pages. Trivial ideals in the manager's office. Little-ness, prejudices, selfishness, petty personalities dominating the whole institution. The mighty social movements that are recreating the world, the great political changes that are producing revolutions, the profound spiritual forces that are bringing order out of chaos are ignored to give space to society chit-chat or salacious scandal.

"When we remember that multitudes of people never read anything but newspapers and also remember that the entire community is dependent upon the press for information of all sorts, can we wonder at the popular frivolity and irresponsibility as shown by dress, conversation, habits of thought and votes?"

"A tremendous moral responsibility rests upon a newspaper proprietor. Through the medium of his newspaper he creates and shapes public opinion. He makes or breaks public officials. His paper carries into the offices and homes of the city ideals that uplift or ideas that degrade. By his feature stories he can teach men to think meanly, frivolously cynically, or he can teach men to think greatly, grandly, nobly.

"The power of the pulpit is in decline. The public forum has fallen into neglect. The influence of the newspaper is in the ascendancy. The news columns of the morning paper determine the community's conversation all day. The future of democracy is at the mercy of the editors. Democracy has its aristocracy. It is the fourth estate; and the re-tainer never followed his feudal lord with any blinder loyalty than the communities of our American democracy follow the dictates of their popular editors.

"Tell me the kind of newspapers a city supports and I will tell you the character of the citizens. A community rises no higher than the newspapers it maintains. It is all nonsense to excuse support of a venal newspaper by the white that it is the best paper available. Better no newspaper at all than a corrupt one. Better the pestilence in your house than a vulgar, frivolous, lying sheet. Typographical excellence, literary excellence, editorial excellence may serve as a resplendent cloak to cover the villainess of the leper.

"By the same token, a community gets just the kind of newspaper it wants. No proprietor, no matter how pig-headed he may be, can long withstand public opinion. Serve notice on him that you demand a clean newspaper and you will get it. But remember the proprietor registers public approval, or public censure in one place and one place only, the business office. Your newspaper syndicate ignores your letters and resolutions so long as you keep your subscription paid up and his advertising columns full."

"The clean newspaper will have a news service truthful, wholesome, complete; will have editorials frank, far-sighted, tolerant, responsible; will have a policy, broad, definite and public-spirited; will have clear-cut principles that cannot be bought or intimidated; and will stand eternally for righteousness, progress and fundamental democracy."

SECRETARIES MEET HERE.

The setting up conference of the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. was held in the Presbyterian church of this place on Tuesday of this week, the affair being an all-day session. At this series of meetings all of the secretaries of the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. were present. It is the practice of this body of secretaries to take one day during the year to get away from the regular routine work of the association and to go apart by themselves for thought and to plan for the work of the association for the ensuing year. These men are so busy while attending to their regular duties at the Y. M. C. A. building that it is impossible for them to think of anything but the work at hand, therefore, this short "study period" is taken yearly.

As early as 8 o'clock the workers began to arrive and from that time until the announcing of the first meeting the young men devoted themselves to a brisk game of baseball on Laurel street. They wisely believe in the old saying, "All work and no play, etc." After the morning sessions, which closed promptly at noon, the hungry thinkers sat down to an elaborate dinner served by the ladies of the church in the social room, immediately adjoining the auditorium. After dinner baseball was again enjoyed until 1:15, when the afternoon session commenced. A feature of the conference was that quite a number of the wives of the secretaries came out to attend the meetings, incidentally to enjoy a "day in the country."

THE BOY SCOUTS.

Last Saturday afternoon, April 5, the Tropicopolitan Boy Scouts under the leadership of their Scout Master, Joy G. Goodsell, made the trip to the Sycamore Canyon.

On arriving at their desired camping place, which later was named camp Second Class, because the boys took some of their second class examination there. The boys cooked a quarter of a pound of meat and two potatoes each without any ordinary cooking utensils.

Later two boys went out with torn paper and scattered it here and there on their rapid route to a hiding place.

Engine Imler tracked them and found their hiding place in ten minutes.

After the tracking Mr. Goodsell told the boys about a game named the spider and the fly.

There were to be four boys in the game. They chose a certain area with which to play the game.

The flies were given fifteen minutes to hide. Then the spiders went after them.

The flies hid in a tree that was standing in a thinly populated meadow. They were Herbert Berteaux and Harold Benner. A half an hour was given to the spiders to catch the flies. If not discovered in that length of time they would call "Time's up," and the flies would come in.

The spiders were Eugene Imler and Russel Harrison, of the first patrol.

The spiders came very near guessing the hiding place of the flies in the half hour given to them.

The flies won the game.

The Scouts reached Tropicopolitan 6:05 p. m.

By the Secretary.

A PLEASANT TRIP PLANNED.

Mrs. E. W. Richardson, the four boys, and probably Miss Alta Stone, and several others from Glendale and Tropicopolitan will take a trip this summer with the Educational Touring Club of Sacramento.

Mrs. Richardson has engaged passage for herself and boys and will sail from San Francisco July 3rd.

Stops will be made at Manzanillo, Acapulco, and Salina Cruz, Mexico; Champerico, San Jose, Guatemala; Acajutla, La Libertad, Salvador; Corinto, San Juan del Sur, Nicaragua; Punta Arenas, Costa Rica. All the different points of interest along the Panama canal will be visited and the party will go to New York by way of Cuba.

After visiting a number of places of interest in and around New York Mrs. Richardson will leave the party and go to Boston. A number of side trips have been planned and extra care is being exercised in selecting the personnel of the party.

At Boston the Richardson boys will enter school. Miss Eulalia is expected to join the family in Boston and after the school year is out next Spring the whole party will return to Tropicopolitan by automobile.

The question of taking some steps to have the street car company stop its trains at one or two stations, at least, in town was discussed but no action taken. Civil Engineer Lynch stated that he knew the street car company was doing the best it could, at this time, to give a satisfactory service.

Attention was called to the gas franchise which went into effect the 28th of February. Under the provisions of this ordinance the citizens are to have the same rate as prevails in Los Angeles, which is lower than the rate heretofore charged. This rate is said to be 75 cents. The City Clerk was instructed to call the attention of the gas company to the provision of the ordinance. It might not be a bad idea to watch and see if you are getting the rate that you are entitled to. The following bills were allowed and warrants ordered drawn:

Complaint being again made as to the "goose" fence still remaining in Moore avenue the Superintendent of Streets was instructed to see that the fence was taken down at once, if necessary, to take the fence down at the city's expense, but to get it down.

The total cash collected for the eastern flood sufferers and forwarded by Mr. Street was $83.50.

Irving H. Oliver, not satisfied with his aldermanic honors, and with the reputation of having some of the best turkeys and chickens, O excuse me,—birds, I should say, is now seeking honors in a new field. Mr. Oliver has just received a thoroughbred Air-dale and proposes to raise some of the finest dogs on the coast.

Mrs. J. M. Cholwell attended a luncheon given by her mother last Thursday in honor of her cousins, Misses Cholwell of Connecticut, at Alhambra.

No, we are not puffed up. Only $22,000 for Tropico and $60,000 for Glendale in building permits for last month. But that is nothing. Just wait until we get down to real work this summer.

Say? Are you coming to the Civic Club meeting next Tuesday. You'd better. There's going to be high jinx, and good eats. Charley Phillips, Frank McKenney and J. N. Chollwell are the committee in charge and if you don't think they are onto the job come up Tuesday and see what they pull off.

Cut out the enemy racket. Just because a man happens to be in the same line of business as yourself, or lives across the street is no earthly reason why you should hate him. If he does a little mean trick, forget it. If he did it because he naturally wants to be mean he deserves your pity and if he did it because he knows no better sympathize with him.

SHOULD BE RETIRED.

At Mare Island, the government's big naval station, about 2,000 men are employed. These men mostly live in Vallejo, a small city situated on the mainland. A small arm of the bay separates Vallejo from Mare Island, and it takes about five minutes to ferry across. Sometime ago the Vallejo Ferry Company was granted an exclusive franchise to run a ferry between Mare Island and Vallejo. They charged the men $2 per month for ferrying them across. This the men considered extortion and proceeded to organize among themselves a cooperative ferry company. This company was enjoined from operating and the supreme court of the State has recently held that the injunction should be made permanent. In effect virtually penalizing 2,000 men.

In view of such decisions is there any wonder there is a growing contempt for courts and disregard for law?

But the company had vested rights, some will say, and they are entitled to protection. Sure, the company had vested rights. And those employees had vested rights, too. But it seems their vested rights were lost sight of. It was they who made the company's franchise valuable. Without them and their patronage the franchise would have been of but little value. It does not appear that this was considered. It is safe to say that the franchise was obtained either through ignorance or fraud.

An exclusive franchise for a long term of years could be obtained in no other way. No franchise should be given without a provision contained therein providing that the people—the grantors of

THE CUSSEDNESS OF TYPE.

Years ago, when I was young, tender and innocent, I worked for a nice bald-pated old gentleman, who often times used words that looked real ugly when printed, and are never found in dull and stupid books. This old gentleman would often say that for pure, unadulterated cussedness nothing could equal type. A change of one letter will convert a love of a girl into a dove, and a dead beat into a dead bean, and so on.

Just a change of one letter will work havoc enough and create untold mischief, but when you come to changing whole lines there is no end to the calamities that may happen. Such transposition in a couple of lines last week came near causing a tragedy in Tropico. About two hours after the Sentinel was in the mail the office phone rang and a voice which fairly sizzled with righteous indignation snapped out:

"Say! Look 'ere here. I'm good natured and will stand for your stinking cheese knife story,—but I'll be blamed if I'll stand to have my ads mixed up with other fellows. Furthermore, the only moving I'm going to do is to move my hand up against an editor's nose and the move will not be gentle, either."

About this time I managed to get in a word and temblingly asked: "Why, what's the trouble, and who's talking?"

"Who's talking, and what's the trouble?" came back like bullets from a Mauser. "I'm Frank Davis, that's who is talking, and I'd have you understand that I'm not moving now nor do I intend to move until I get good and ready and I draw the line on having my ads say that I am. Coleman and Var Arum are going to—"

But just here a happy inspiration occurred to me and I merrily inquired: "Well, aren't you people moving lots of goods out of your store into the homes of your customers. I've always understood the Davis Grocery Company were a pretty lively bunch and did a lot of moving."

For a moment there was silence and then in a slightly modified tone: "Well, that's so but I don't like the way you put it in the paper."

Not knowing the cause of Mr. Davis' wrath, but being desperate and willing to do most anything to pacify him, I said: "I'll fix that up alright—that'll be alright."

Slamming up the telephone receiver I grabbed a paper and hurriedly began a search for the ad, but before I could find it "Buz-z" went the phone again.

Answering it another voice cut through the air like the crack of an old time ox-whip and demanded to know of this was the Sentinel office. "Yes, sir," I said. "I'll be glad to know what you mean by changing my ad. Don't you suppose I know enough to fix up my own ads, I'll let you know that I don't want any boob changing my ads."

"Whose talking," I asked, more to gain time to think of some excuse than for any other reason.

This is Robinson Bros., Cash Grocers, and we not only know how to run an up-to-date grocery but know how to write our ads, too."

"Well, 'er Mr. Robinson, you see—yes—see—"

"No, I don't see, but I will see you if such a thing happens again, see?" and bang went the wires as the phone was slammed up.

"O, Lordy," I thought, "if only some one would invent type that would stay placed and not get 'pied' or change the nature of the printer so that he would be more careful."

LOYALTY TO HER TOWN LEADS TO TROUBLE.

The public spirited patriotism of one of Tropico's prominent citizens came near getting her in the toils of the officers of the law. For some time the Board of Trustees, the Civic Club and the Sentinel have been urging the citizens to make a spring clean-up of the city. To show her good intentions, Mrs. E. W. Richardson, who is always anxious to do everything she can to forward Tropico and Tropico's interest not only cleaned up around her residence but proceeded to have Al Moniot, of the Tropico Garage, give her Chalmers "30" a thorough cleaning so as to have it in keeping with the day.

Mrs. Richardson had been appointed one of the election judges for the school election for last Saturday and wanting to comply with all legal requirements she recalled her early custom and arose with the first break of day. After getting breakfast, reading the paper and rustling all the "kiddies" out she called up Wesley Bullis, a supposed friend, and asked what time she was expected to be at the polls.

When the telephone rang Bullis was getting in his beauty sleep and dreaming of the time when he too, had risen with the birds and hid himself away to SEVEN Tropico Sent April 7 tt labor. Mrs. Bullis gave him a the franchise shall have power to revoke such franchise under stipulated conditions, and in case of franchise for public service corporations the privilege of purchasing should invariably be retained. Judges who fail to recognize the rights of man as well as the rights of the dollar should be retired to private life. Their archaic ideas are not for this day and age.

The Sentinel wants you to receive your paper promptly every week. The paper is mailed every Thursday at noon. Every effort is made to see that each subscriber gets their paper. The post office employees have been exceptionally kind in assisting our mailing force, but even with the best intentions and efforts of all concerned occasionally a mistake will occur and we want to correct these as soon as possible. MEDICINE AND STATE NOT FITTED FOR MARRIAGE UNION.

From time to time strong and able members of the regular medical profession,—those who are in no sense place-hunters or seekers after special privileges, have pointed out the danger of granting more arbitrary power to any school or body of practitioners; while, on the other hand, they have emphasized the reason why freedom is the condition of scientific advancement and popular well-being in the realm of the healing art.

The following thoughtful words by Dr. Elmer Lee, A. M., M. D., ex-chairman of the Section of State Medicine of the American Medical Association, embody a profound truth very appreciable at the present hour, when the political doctors are striving to greatly augment their already sweeping power in the national Government, and to obtain control of the bodies of the people throughout the various commonwealths, by drastic restrictive and monopolistic legislation. The Doctor said:

"Medical centralization includes a system of standards, limitations, restrictions, laws and rules, but how can the system be a help both to the doctor and to the patient? For any practitioner knows that the trying ordeal of practice can have no standards. Medical practice is different in each and every case, and classifications and remedies by rules are out of question."

"No two physicians agree in practice. It is well that it is so, otherwise failure by one to relieve would mean despair to the patient. Safety and salvation are accomplished by freedom to choose and diversity in practice. Absence of standards, just as privilege to select and use different colors and fabrics and shapes in clothing, marks a free, progressive and prosperous people. . . . I am resolute in my opposition to a public department of health, for I see how it might become a calamity to layman, physician, and to the State. I see how it might become prejudicial to the progress and usefulness of minor medical schools. Looking at the proposition as if I were a member of a minor medical school, which I am not, I see room for injustice and dissatisfaction. All medical wisdom is not in any one of the schools; each has some, and each is striving for what is better, and the members of all are earnest citizens doing the best they can. No one is entirely satisfied with his competency in medicine, so that I feel that there should not be too free a hand with the 'big stick.' Church and State have not worked well together; neither is it likely that medicine and State are fitted for the marriage union."

punch in the short ribs and told him to get up and see what was wanted. Stumbling out of bed he barked his shins on a rocking chair, and used such naughty words that Mrs. Bullis hid her head under the cover. Reaching the phone in this frame of mind he gruffly demanded what was wanted and who was such a barbarian as to get up at that hour.

Mrs. Richardson answered that it was she and she wanted to know what time she was to be at the polls.

With fiendish malvolence he told her that it was absolutely necessary for her to be there not later than 6 o'clock. When he found that Mrs. Richardson believed him he gleefully returned to his warm and cozy bed, gloating over the success of his falsehood. Accepting the statement of Mr. Bullis as true, notwithstanding the Sentinel had published the time as being from 9 o'clock until 6, Mrs. Richardson got out her shiny, newly cleaned car and went to the school building, parking her car in the school grounds. Patiently she awaited the coming of the other judges and the voters.

In due course of time the neighbors living in the vicinity of the school arose and lo, and behold a fine looking car was standing apparently deserted. A steady watch by the neighbors revealed no owner coming to claim it.

Mr. Myron Griswold, alert for evil doers, made a canvass of the neighborhood but no one had ever seen the car before. It was there when they got up and had been there ever since and no one had been seen to claim it. That was all any one could tell.

Griswold notified Billie Gould and together a further investigation was made, but still no owner was found, nor any one who recognized the car. A consultation was held and it was decided to notify the county sheriff. This was done and soon Sheriff Hammell, a deputy or two and a detective, was on the scene.

In the name and majesty of the law the sheriff took possession of the car and proceeded to appropriate the papers and powders, and puff balls and fancy fixings he found.

About this time Mrs. Richardson happened to look out and see a motley assortment of men making free with her car and naturally was indignant. Going out she demanded to know why they were making so free with her car. This led to explanations and with due apologies the minions of the law returned the appropriated property and retired.

Mrs. Richardson says she can forgive the officers ransacking her papers, spilling her Swan's Down and spoiling her nice new puff ball. She can even forgive the mean trick played on her by Wesley Bullis, a man whom she regarded almost as a brother, but she cannot forgive the way the men smeared up with dirty fingers her newly cleaned and burnished car.

DRESS DECISIONS FROM WHITE HOUSE.

That the extreme simplicity which has so far marked President Wilson's social policy is to be carried out in the regime of Mrs. Wilson as First Lady of the Land, is shown by the dress patterns chosen by Mrs. Wilson and her three daughters for the May issue of "Good Dressing," the new fashion magazine issued by Tropico Mercantile Co.

Mrs. Wilson believes in purchasing clothes that are not extravagantly priced, and practicing just what she preaches, she does so without any sacrifice of style or quality. Those who have seen the purchases for her new role as Mistress of the White House have been astonished at the simple elegance shown as well as the modesty of the prices paid. While her critics were saying "it could not be done," Mrs. Wilson has done it, and in May "Good Dressing," which Tropico Mercantile Co. will distribute free for the asking after April 5th, she and each of her daughters select dresses that prove the statement.

"The Springtime Dress That Trims Itself" is another featured article in May "Good Dressing" that will appeal to many women who are perplexed as to how they may get a dress that is stylish, and at the same time within their means. It is an article illustrated by ten designs that are explained in detail and is novel as well as interesting.

Then Caruso, the world-famed Italian tenor, whose voice produces such a golden stream for his pocketbook that a small fortune is paid him for an hour or two's singing each evening, speaks to the women of Tropico and vicinity through May "Good Dressing." Caruso's contact with the best dressed women in each of the cities, both in America and abroad, in which he sings, makes his judgment particularly fitting and his first choice is a model that may be made of any fabric that has little body or stiffness, such as voile, crepe, dimity, the dotted and embroidered swisses, lawn, or any of the dainty silk and cotton mixtures. His second choice is a beautiful modification of a draped tunic—a charming afternoon and church dress if made of a dark violet crepe de chine with yoke of shadow net or less expensively of a Delit blue crepe or cotton voile.

In May "Good Dressing," too, there is a very interesting article describing in detail just "What the New York Women are Wearing," and Nancy Norton writes another letter to her girl friends back home. Nancy Norton is a young miss attending boarding school in New York, and she writes entertainingly of the many interesting things she sees there and tells of the new materials and styles the stores are showing.

"Good Dressing" is edited by the editors of The Ladies' Home Journal, and each month besides its distinctive fashion features gives such helps as "How Can I Fix My Hat Over," "When You Buy a Corset," "How Can I Have Pretty Hair," etc. Each issue grows in interest, and with the May number a new department—"Dressing the Children"—is added. This new department will be edited by one of the best known and closest students of children's clothes needs, and it will be of great interest to mothers generally.

The Tropico Mercantile Co. are able to issue "Good Dressing" through co-operation with 3,000 other leading American stores. This beautiful magazine costs about $400,000 a year to produce, but any reader of the Tropico Sentinel may get a copy by calling at the pattern department of Tropico Mercantile Co.

DEATH OF MRS. CLINE.

Mrs. Cline, mother of Mrs. James Hutt of Blanche avenue, died at the California hospital Sunday evening. About a week previous to her death Mrs. Cline went to Los Angeles with a companion. When ready to return home the ladies parted, each to do a little shopping, promising to catch a certain car from the city. Mrs. Cline failed to catch the car and investigation afterward proved that shortly after leaving her companion she had been taken by an attack of apoplexy. She was taken to the receiving hospital, where she lingered for nearly a week before the end came.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. Hutt on Blanche avenue Tuesday at 2 o'clock, Rev. S. W. Carnes, pastor of the local Methodist church, officiating. Interment was effected at Forest Lawn cemetery.

THERE'LL BE A HOT TIME

Elaborate preparations are being made for the dance which is to be given Thursday evening, April 17th, by the Knights of Pythias lodge of this place in Pythian hall on San Fernando road. The program calls for excellent music to be furnished by the Busch orchestra of Los Angeles and refreshments to be served. A fine time is promised and all are welcome.

The architect of his own fortune is always planning extensions.

ELKS INSTALL OFFICERS.

There were some high jinx at the Elks' lodge room on Broadway Monday evening. If the facts were known, however, this crowd of jolly good fellows have high jinx at their club room every Monday night, but the jinx last Monday evening was taken up by the installation of officers, the following new corps of officials being pressed into service: Exalted Ruler, J. W. Lawson; Excellent Leading Knight, William Herman West; Excellent Loyal Knight, Howard W. Walker; Excellent Lecturing Knight, S. W. Parkard; Secretary, H. F. Hoffer; Tyler, F. J. Willett; Treasurer, C. H. Boyd; Trustees, Frank B. McKenney, David L. Gregg, Edward M. Lynch; Chaplain, George Melford; Esquire, Dr. H. G. Martin; Inner Guard, S. A. Pollock; Organist, George Hawcroft.

The installation of officers was followed by a pleasing impromptu program given by various members of the lodge. There were songs and dances, piano and other instrumental solos; also stump speeches and addresses. One member who was present tells us that there was "some class" to the numbers, too. To put a fitting climax to the evening there was an elaborate "feed." The "fixin's" and all were there and the joy-makers did them justice. The cigars were then passed around, and everyone went home carrying with him that Elk smile.

HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Evans of Hollywood were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Chollwell last Sunday.

Mrs. A. P. Stone is building a bungalow on her lot on Laurel St., which will be quite an improvement.

Mrs. Rose Conrad and daughter of Newhall, were guests this week of Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Conrad of Glendale avenue.

Miss Elizabeth Veal of Los Angeles has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Coles, of 455 Gardena, the past week.

Mrs. John Varcoe of San Jose was a guest this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Smith of 109 Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Fallis of Los Angeles enjoyed a short visit Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frances Moore of Park avenue.

Hereafter the Star Theatre will have a Sunday program, entirely different from any of the other nights. Tropic is growing and the Star has to keep pace.

Mrs. D. O. Martin, Mrs. O. P. Martin, Mrs. W. E. Burk and Miss Ruth Larabee were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Martin of San Marino, Los Angeles, last Thursday.

Mr. W. E. Burk, who has been in Colorado for some time, is at home again and will remain long enough to get acquainted with Mrs. Burk and the little Burks once more.

Mrs. Jacob Bernhart of Shelton, Neb., who is passing some time in Southern California, was a week-end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Myers on Central avenue.

Misses Freda and Ruby Bor-thick of Seventh street entertained a number of friends very delightfully Friday evening. Games and music were enjoyed during the evening.

Master Addison Ream, while horseback riding on Ninth street, last Sunday, was thrown from the horse and painfully injured. He fell sideways and struck his knee on the hard street. Dr. Duncan was called and administered aid.

The Eladnel's met at the home of Miss Katherine Lewis, 215 Kenwood street, Thursday evening, where five hundred was enjoyed. The head prizes were awarded to Miss Loraine Mitchell and Mr. Seymour Thompson.

The election for School Trustees last Saturday resulted in Mrs. Chas. A. Barker receiving a unanimous vote. Mr. C. O. Pulliam of Glendale, and Mr. C. W. Young of Eagle Rock, were re-elected Trustees for the high school.

Dr. George Wharton James, editor of the Out West Magazine, is to give thirteen stereopticon lectures at the Association Auditorium, 715 South Hope Street, Los Angeles during April, May and June. Lectures to be given Saturday evenings.

A family gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davenport on Glendale avenue this week when a number of Los Angeles friends were entertained. Compliment to H. W. Davenport of Culbertson, Kansas, who is enjoying an indefinite visit with Mr. Davenport and family.

Miss Alpha Clements, Miss Ray Davis and Miss George Duffett representing the Senior class of the high school gave a dance Saturday evening at the Glendale Country Clubhouse, corner Brand boulevard and Third street, Glendale. A large number of young folks attended, and the rooms were decorated with pennants and Japanese lanterns.

B. E. Murdock and mother of Los Angeles, enjoyed a short visit this week with E. H. Weston at his bungalow studio on Brand boulevard. This visit was made prior to Mr. Murdock's going abroad for a three years' tour. Mr. Murdock was the recent recipient of a small fortune from the estate of the Earl of Derby of England.

Al Vaulet, the up-to-date barber, who purchased recently the business of J. F. Harris, on San Fernando road, has gone to considerable expense in the enlargement and remodeling of the place. In addition to other improvements Mr. Vaulet has installed a modern cigar stand in connection with the shop.

Allen Davenport arrived home Saturday afternoon from the northern part of the state, where he went with the baseball and track teams of the University of Southern California. By clever work this year Mr. Davenport made the varsity team of the university and has participated in several games during the present season.

Recorder G. C. Melrose of this city, was the recipient of the sad news of the death of his sister, Ind. The death of Mrs. Gray Mrs. Susana Gray, at Shelburn, came as the result of a gasoline explosion. Mr. Melrose had not seen his sister for thirty years.

Mrs. Charles M. Retts and daughter of Brand boulevard, attended a baby party given early this week at the home of Mrs. Carl King, 860 Harvard boulevard, Los Angeles. The affair was given complimentary to Miss Hazel Haverin of Los Angeles, who celebrated her first birthday anniversary at that time.

Mrs. Frances Moore of Park avenue entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon recently. A four-course repast was served in the breakfast room, the table being decorated very prettily with many roses and greenery. For the affair the rooms were adorned with potted ferns. The guests included Mrs. Mark Van Loven and son, and Mrs. George Moore and son of Los Angeles, and Mrs. C. M. Retts and daughter of Brand boulevard.

We were informed that a party interested in the manufacture of steel instruments, was in Tropic this week with the view of selecting a location for a manufacturing plant. He was well pleased with this section, and the prospects are bright for moving his plant from Los Angeles to this place.

The Glendale Home Tract reports three sales of lots, one with improvements. The Glendale Park Tract, 15 lots ranging in value from $350 to $750; the Kenilworth Tract, three lots to individuals and five lots to the California Bungalow Co., seven of the last eight lots to be immediately improved.

OLD FRIENDS MEET AGAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jarvis of Los Angeles, Mr. W. C. B. Richardson of Brazil, Ind., and Miss Alta Stone were the guests of Mrs. E. W. Richardson last Sunday. Mr. Jarvis and Mr. Richardson enjoyed this valley together over thirty years ago when they were boys. A trip was made by auto to Venice, where they joined Mr. and Mrs. Harold Frackelton, Miss Ruth Frackelton and Mr. Harold Frackelton.

Mrs. Frackelton was formerly Miss Alice Parker of Eagle Rock, and besides renewing their acquaintance of this date they were busy calling to mind many things of their primary school days way back in Chicago during 1874.

Mr. Richardson left for his home Tuesday determined to sell out his interests and return soon with his wife, son and daughter and make Tropic his future home.

BUY A PIE.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS NOTES.

Calendar for April.
Monday night, April 7, Rank of Page; also election of representative to the grand lodge which meets in San Diego in May.

Monday night, April 14, Rank of Esquire.

Monday night, April 21, Rank of Knight. This night the judges appointed by the Pythaing congress to report the standing of lodges contesting for the Royal Banner, will be present; also many visiting knights. Refreshments will be served.

Monday night, April 28, Smoker. All brother knights and gentlemen friends are invited. Good cigars and an interesting program. Committee in charge will be composed of Joe Burke, Dave Lovell and Frank H. Davis.

There was something doing in the local lodge circles during the month of March. Four local boys, Messrs. O. P. Martin, W. A. Calhoun, William Tobin and L. H. Addison, were made knights during the month. Brothers Capt. W. C. Wattles and Frank Booth were transferred to the Tropic lodge from Marathon, Los Angeles No. 182, while Joseph J. Burke came to the local lodge from Miradera Lodge No. 96 of Glendale. The membership of the local lodge is 109.

The drill team under the leadership of M. and W. McAdams is doing excellent work and the members of the local lodge expect that this team will land the banner.

J. Finiger, Santa Barbara Woman's Club.
"Shall clubs have sections and how shall they be financed?" Leader, Mrs. William L. Jones, Ebelle, Los Angeles. Mrs. Jones said she thought sectional work in the clubs, was the heart of club work, that it developed the individual. That individual development is the right and duty of every one.

Sections in clubs do not divide the clubs but bind them together. She advised clubs standing the expense of section work if they could afford to do so.

"From what sources have you obtained your best programs?" Leader, Mrs. Frank A. Stephens, Woman's Improvement Association, Southern Pasadena. Mrs. Stephens said, by all means the programs should be in the hands of the President, and when possible should be carried out by club members. No matter how small the clubs, have sections, members come together from interest of the work rather than coming together in cliques.

The subject of getting out programs was taken up. Some were printed once a year, some twice a year, three months down to once a month, and strange to say each one seemed to think her way was best.

Mrs. Westland, President of the Southern District said the needs in different clubs were different and all were right,—she advised us to find out our needs and follow them.

The department conferences were very interesting and many questions pertaining to them were discussed.

On Wednesday there were, Social and Industrial Conditions, Civil Service Reform, and Forestry.

On Thursday, Household Economics, Civics and Legislation.

Friday, Philanthropy, Health and History and Landmarks. Short reports of these conferences were given by the chairmen at the general sessions.

Other reports were: Reports of officers. "Shall We Redistrict the State," Mrs. H. E. De Nyse. Art, Miss Lucy Marks; Reciprocity, Mrs. L. N. Harmon; Club Extension, Mrs. Godfrey Edwards; Music, Mrs. George H. Hutton; General Endowment Fund, Mrs. Calvin Hartwell; Clubhouse Loan Fund, Mrs. J. I. Steadman; Press Notes, Miss Anne Bock; Peace, Mrs. Josiah E. Cowles.

Other business taken up was the adoption of resolutions and election of officers; the appointing of a committee to raise money to build a fountain on the El Camino Real. Mr. McGroarty has promised the proceeds of the Mission Play for one day, the date to be settled later.

Personally, I consider it a privilege and a duty to attend the convention. Every experience that one gets increases our usefulness, we may not be able to make use of it now, but at some future time, some of the many things we absorbed there are going to be a benefit to us in some way. If we shoulder our responsibilities as we should we enjoy the work and grow in breadth of ideas, toleration of another's view point and in sympathy with each other.

The State Convention will be held in Fresno on April 29 and 30, May 1 and 2. Mrs. Jones of Fresno gave the delegates a cordial invitation to be present.

Mrs. Orr, State President, also invited delegates to attend, saying that they would be coming to see her then. She said Federated women should not make a dress parade of Conventions nor should she remain away because she has not a new hat or dress. There are plans for a three-day trip to the Yosemite, after the convention, special rates will be made if a sufficient number will go.

Claudia D. Griswold, Pres. Tropic L. A. Club.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The baseball team of the high school crossed bats Tuesday afternoon with Harvard Military School on the high school grounds. The game was an easy victory, for the high school won by a score of 17 to 1.

The fourth annual oratorical contest was held Friday evening in the Auditorium. Each class having its particular place where yells and songs were given by their leaders. An address was given by Harold Stor, last year's winner, also winner of Southern California High School Championship.

The first speaker was Mr. Leslie Tarr, on Government Ownership, who represented the Sophomore class. Miss Alma Turner, representing the Senior class, talked on Labor and Construction. Miss Carlon Lewisford, who talked on War—Its Cost and Folly, representing the Freshman class, and Miss Jennie Boring, representing the Junior class, talked on Child Labor.

They were all very good and interesting, and the judges announced Miss Jennie Boring the winner, and the Sophomore as having the best looking booth.

Mr. A. P. Stone left Monday for a trip to Imperial Valley, with the object of looking over two sections of land for the Miller Realty Co. of Los Angeles, and planning to plant the land to alfalfa and pick out the building sites.

AUTO AND MOTORCYCLE COLLIDE.

What might have been a very serious accident occurred on San Fernando just south of the Pacific Electric tracks at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, when an automobile driving from Los Angeles collided with a motorcycle, both machines traveling at a fairly good rate of speed at the time. The driver of the motorcycle, Irvin Hair, residing at 750 Bishop street, Los Angeles, was thrown to the side of the road, where for several seconds the driver and the

To The Citizens of Glendale, Tropic and Vicinity:

We desire to state to the good people of Tropic, Glendale and surrounding country, that we have opened up a Real Estate Office in the Mission Building on the corner of Third street and Brand boulevard, in the City of Glendale, and while we are recently from Kentucky and are strangers to a majority of the population here, we cordially invite all who have houses, lots, acreage, stocks of merchandise, or in fact anything for sale, to list with us, and an earnest effort will be promptly made to render efficient service.

To those who wish to buy a Home or Vacant Lot, a Stock of Merchandise, A Bakery, a Ranch, or a Moving Picture Show and many other items, we invite you to call at our office and look over our list which is daily growing.

Respectfully,
Jackson Realty Company,
